01/2003 Winning Points Pointsfinder

Little costly, but I couldn't find mine and needed one badly.

I love my points finder. It makes losing weight much, much, easier. I joined weight watchers online & its been pretty terrific.

I joined WW way back in 2001 & got one of theses Pointsfinder's as part of the program. As for the 1 star reviewer commenting on how they are given to you "free" at WW, nothing is free. You pay to join, you pay to go to meetings (that was before everything was online), & while you're there they try to sell you more WW stuff. So, nothing is free. Despite all of that, I love the WW points program! The Pointsfinder is very easy to use, & makes keeping track of what your eating a snap! I lost mine & replaced it in 2008 either on Amazon or eBay at the cost of about $20. I know there are updated versions, but I find this still works great as I can approximate my own activity points earned which is what the "booster" on the newer Pointsfinder is for. If you're thinking of spending A LOT more for a newer one, my advice is to go online to find out how to calculate Weight Watchers Activity Points. It's so simple that if this Pointsfinder is several dollars cheaper, spend those bucks on an updated Dining Out Companion as restaurant's change their menus frequently. If you eat out a lot (I like to), this too will be essential!!!

The product itself is fine. However, the price is ridiculous. This product is free at a WW's center and they're charging $75. How greedy of the sellers!
