Customer Reviews

As some of you know, I am Stephanie Auguste, also known as Warrior Woman. I've been asked how I came up with the name Warrior Woman and the answer is that I am a fighter - especially, when it comes to matters of freedom. And, I can get pretty passionate about it! That might be partly because I've got it in my blood, as the descendant of warriors on my father's side of the family. We've had men fighting for freedom in America since the Revolutionary War. So, you see, it more or less comes naturally for me to want to fight for freedom, even as a woman armed with a pen, keyboard, or microphone. For me, freedom goes beyond politics - it's a way of life. It's a lifestyle! For this reason, I'll occasionally speak on topics such as alternative health, spirituality, and homeschooling. As a matter of fact, vaccine choice is one of my hot button topics. As a mother of three completely vaccine-free children - who, by the way, has no regrets - I've been asked to publicly speak about this and I've worked with grassroots groups to protect vaccine choice in Texas, among other things. As I continue to learn along with you more about issues concerning freedom, it's occurred to me that we're awakening ourselves and others to a life lived with more freedom. That's a life we were destined and purposed to have. So, thanks in advance for keeping in touch with me at warriorwoman212.com and sharing my information with others. Together, let's drop truth bombs for freedom's sake! ~ Stephanie Auguste, Warrior Woman
