I Survived The Eruption Of Mount St. Helens, 1980 (I Survived #14)

Synopsis

Eleven-year-old Jessie Marlowe has grown up with the beautiful Mount St. Helens always in the background. She's hiked its winding trails, dived into its cold lakes, and fished for trout in its streams. Just looking at Mount St. Helens out her window made Jess feel calm, like it was watching over her somehow. Of course, she knew the mountain was a volcano...but not the active kind, not a volcano that could destroy and kill! Then Mount St. Helens explodes with unimaginable fury. Jess suddenly finds herself in the middle of the deadliest and most destructive volcanic event in U.S. history. Ash and rock are spewing everywhere. Can Jess escape in time? The newest book in the I Survived series will take readers into one of the most environmentally devastating events in recent U.S. history.

Lauren Tarshis's New York Times bestselling I Survived series tells stories of young people and their resilience and strength in the midst of unimaginable disasters. Lauren has brought her signature warmth and exhaustive research to topics such as the September 11 attacks, the destruction of Pompeii, Hurricane Katrina, and the bombing of Pearl Harbor, among others. She lives in Westport, Connecticut, and can be found online at www.laurentarshis.com.

It may be a short book, but it has a lot of power and encouragement. The first girl main character (Jess) is brave, and makes other girls who read the book feel brave. My DAD even likes the book (:

Very interesting story. Great way to tell us about Mount ST. Helens eruption.

This series is my 10 year old's favorite. He's been reading them since 2nd grade. I've read them aloud to my younger son and find myself captivated and eager to read the whole story in 1 reading. The author does a fabulous job capturing the audience and describing the scenes and events. I highly recommend this series for kids to read. It also gets them very interested in history.

Young readers love this series. I use them teaching English in Sweden and they work well on 12 - 16 year olds.

Loves these books.

Love all the books in the I Survived Series, they turned my reluctant reader into a kid reading 2-3 books a week. Each and every book in this series kept him interested and started all sorts of cool conversations about various world events and natural disasters. Highly recommended series for elementary kids.

My seven-year-old loves these books I hope they keep making more we are working on purchasing all the collection. They definitely keep his interest.
