Great read related to my life in so many ways! What looks good ain't always good for you! Patience is the key! Enjoyed reading this book

This my first time reading a book from this author and I must say I LOVED it!! I loved how she incorporated scriptures in the story and I really liked the study guide at the end. I'm not going to give away details but it makes you think and make you look at your own situations at a different way. I know this hit home for me and I need to patient and listen/wait on God for my Husband. Plus I love the fact that the main character is a part of my sorority! I would recommend this novel to every young lady and woman between the ages of 16+.

This book was a page-turner!! The story was amazing and Spirit filled. I really enjoyed it and would recommend this book to all single ladies. I also noted some similarities from my own experiences and mistakes. (On a side note: the only thing I wasn't pleased with was the plethora of typos. Yes, I am a stickler for grammar when it comes to the books I read; if you're not, then it won't be a problem. Otherwise the story itself was awesome!)

I am married, 11yrs this summer but this was still much needed for myself. I have some single friends in my life and I have recommended this book and as they read we can discuss it.

I really enjoyed reading this book. I am blessed to have been married to God fearing for 35 years and never have gone through what the character went through. I hope Moore young women who are not married read this book.

This book was a fantastic read! By in large, it was pretty predictable, but there were a few surprises as well. I love that it did not end with a happily ever after, because a lot of times, we still have to wait on one thing, even after He's opened doors in some other areas.

A great reminder and genuine story of waiting for love and acknowledging your self worth. Greatly incurs self reflection and soul searching.

Good read would recommend to others should be read by anyone single thinking they need a husband without waiting for what God has for them
