Volume 50, Bicyclic Diazepines: Diazepines With An Additional Ring

Synopsis

The Chemistry of Heterocyclic Compounds, since its inception, has been recognized as a cornerstone of heterocyclic chemistry. Each volume attempts to discuss all aspects — properties, synthesis, reactions, physiological and industrial significance — of a specific ring system. To keep the series up-to-date, supplementary volumes covering the recent literature on each individual ring system have been published. Many ring systems (such as pyridines and oxazoles) are treated in distinct books, each consisting of separate volumes or parts dealing with different individual topics. With all authors are recognized authorities, the Chemistry of Heterocyclic Chemistry is considered worldwide as the indispensable resource for organic, bioorganic, and medicinal chemists.

Customer Reviews

Volume 50 of this series covers bicyclic diazepine compounds, discussing each system, first in order of ring fusion and then according to increasing size of the fused ring (least degree of saturation first). The discussions of carbocyclic fused rings precede those of heterocyclic fused rings; however, where appropriate, the benzene annelated ring system is given preference over other fused ring systems. In addition, the great volume of material to be covered for the [e]-fused[1,4]-benzodiazepines has been arranged in five chapters for ease of reference. The literature through 1985 has been surveyed for this volume.
