Paul Whitcomb was a Catholic author of two spiritual booklets: Confession of a Roman Catholic and The Catholic Church has the Answer. Both of these were initially published around 1958 and 1961, respectively, by the Loyola Book Company, California. They were later reprinted by TAN in 1985 and 1986. A former Protestant minister, Mr. Whitcomb was converted to Catholicism through laborious reading and comparison of the Holy Scriptures. He recounts his conversion story step-by-step in Confession of a Roman Catholic.

Whether you are interested in learning more about your Catholic faith or a non-Catholic interested in learning about Catholic teaching, this an excellent resource. The author is direct and concise in explaining the Catholic Church's teachings and the basis of those teachings.

This pamphlet is a concise, accurate and easy to read explanation of what the Catholic Church is and what she teaches.

This is an excellent book explaining why and what the Catholic Church believes. I wish everyone would read this book.

Simple, small, direct. Great starting point for someone interested in understanding very basic Catholic apologetics- the simple differences between Catholicism and Protestantism from a former Protestant.

A bit too dogmatic for me though it might serve as a quick reference source for questions relating to Catholicism.

Great

An excellent defence of the catholic faith from a former protestant minister. He covers all the main issues that separate catholics from protestants from a biblical; perspective. I highly recommend this to any protestant who is looking into the Catholic faith and for catholics who will have their faith strengthened by this very good apologetic

It gives clear and concise answers to the most frequently asked questions about the Catholic Church. Paul Whitcomb cites his information very well. It is more powerful because he is a convert.
